

2018 NATIVE TREES & SHRUBS

Why Native Trees & Shrubs? Native plants have the genetic ability to overcome the challenges of disease, weather and insects – they are already adapted to your environment. The effective use of Native plant species supports the concept of sustainable landscapes - requiring less maintenance, watering, fertilizer & pesticide use as well as reducing soil erosion and providing natural wildlife habit. Restore your landscape and preserve the local native heritage.

Increased survivability + reduced maintenance = a successful planting for our customers.

Why Ohana Farms? Native trees & shrubs represent a large percentage of our production. The plants Ohana Farms designates as Native are from hardy Northern seed sources. We also grow “Nativars” or cultivars of Native Species which are selected for superior traits or reliability. Natives have a proven performance record in our tough, Northern Illinois climate. Most of our native container grown plants are produced in special root-making fabric pots – so your plant starts with a dense, fibrous, easily transplanted root system. Most of our larger field grown Native Trees are grown in specialized root pruning fabric bags – which make for a similar much improved root system, lower weight root balls and outstanding transplant results. We pride ourselves on providing quality plants and quality service, at fair prices.

WE HAVE GONE GREEN... WE NO LONGER PRINT CATALOGS

Our effort to provide you with the highest quality plants at the lowest possible prices.

Good for the environment & good for our customers!
